

Hint Of New Arrests In British Spy Case

FBI Reports Klaus Red Sympathizer

Washington, Feb. 6—(AP)—Hints of possible new arrests in the London atomic spy case were given today by the FBI reported that Dr. Klaus Fuchs, key figure in the international hubbub, was a long-time Communist sympathizer.

On a tip from the FBI, Scotland Yard agents seized Fuchs in England last Friday and jailed him for allegedly leaking hydrogen bomb data and other vital atomic secrets to Moscow.

Chairman McMahon (D-Conn.) of the Senate atomic committee told newsmen that "further ramifications" of the case are being worked on by the FBI in this country and by British intelligence agents in Britain.

"Does that mean others were involved, besides Fuchs?" a reporter asked.

McMahon replied: "Sometimes common sense dictates that arrests not be made immediately."

McMahon gave this account of data turned up by the FBI:

1. That the imprisoned Dr. Fuchs, top British atomic scientist, has been "definitely sympathetic to Communists ideologies" since he was a young man.

2. That "no doubt" exists as to called hydrogen "bomb" — the Fuchs' wide knowledge of the so-called weapon which reportedly would pack eight to 1,000 times the explosive fury of the old atom bomb.

3. That Fuchs has "transmitted highly secret information to Soviet Russia."

4. That Fuchs, who worked on atomic projects in the United States from 1943 to 1946, was not under suspicion until the FBI gave the British government a lead about his activities. McMahon said the British first questioned Fuchs in late December, 1949.

FBI Director Hoover has been quoted as saying that Fuchs had confessed "in part" and that FBI evidence indicated the German-born British physicist had been a paid Soviet spy since 1929.

Fuchs came to this country in November, 1943 and worked in New York, Washington and at the Los Alamos, N.M., laboratories. He remained here until June, 1946.

Awaiting trial in London, Fuchs is accused of two specific instances of violating the British official secrets act—once by allegedly passing atomic secrets to Russian agents in the United States in 1945, and again in England in 1947.

Douglas Will Sign
Order Releasing
Tokyo Rose On Bail

Washington, Feb. 6—(AP)—Justice William O. Douglas of the supreme court sent word to the clerk of the high tribunal today that he will sign an order permitting release on $50,000 bail for "Tokyo Rose" who is under sentence for treason.

Douglas is recovering in Tucson, Arizona, from a riding accident.

Iva Toguri D'Aquino, known as "Tokyo Rose," was sentenced to 10 years in prison and fined $100,000 in U. S. district court in San Francisco last October 6. Her conviction resulted from propaganda broadcasts during the last war.

She is now in federal reformatory for women at Alderson, West Virginia.

The supreme court clerk mailed to Justice Douglas the proper document for him to sign.

The supreme court attaches said the court of appeals at San Francisco, to which "Tokyo Rose" is appealing her conviction, would be the source of information when and if Douglas actually signs.

House Passes Bill
Slapping Penalty
On 'Sly' Salesmen

Washington, Feb. 6—(AP)—The House today passed a bill slapping damage liability on sales agents who take "on the side" payments in the sale of homes to veterans under the GI Bill.

The measure, requested by the justice department, was approved and sent to the Senate without a dissenting vote.

Justice department records show fines under existing law range from $1 to $250 although overpayments run up to $1,500 dollars.

The bill provides action within 30 days to recover treble damages. Later than that, however, he may request the attorney general to act for him but he may recover only one third the damages for himself.

GOP Demands Voice In U. S. Foreign Policy

Washington, Feb. 6—(AP)—The Republican party in a fighting 1950 campaign document today demanded a voice in the initiation of a "united American foreign policy" and pledged itself to oppose "socialism."

After all-day secret sessions that at times reverberated with hot debate, the party came up with a 2,500 word statement, protesting that the administration has handled foreign affairs without consulting the minority party. It also denounced what it termed the administration's "soft attitude" toward those in government who "hold or support communist attitudes."

"The major issue today is liberty against socialism," the statement said in leading off its discussion of domestic affairs. It pledged the party to a vigorous fight for preservation of human liberty and individual dignity.

It said the government can use its powers to foster health, promote security for the aged, develop sound agricultural and labor-management relations, and advance civil rights without "establishing socialism or discipline and dependence."

The statement, designed for use by the republican candidates in attempting to regain control of congress next November, advocated lower taxes, and end to "reckless and extravagant spending" by government, a program of farm price supports instead of the Brannan plan, "improvements" in the Taft-Hartley law, protection of the rights of minorities, and federal aid to states to provide subsistence, shelter and medical care for those in need.

The robbers forced a bookkeeper, Miss Anne Grass, 28, to open a safe after the manager, Ralph Horney, 36, said he was too nervous to work the combination. Other employees were herded into a first floor room by the gunmen who entered the store through a fire escape.

Washington, Feb. 6—(AP)—The prison gates will swing open next week for William Dudley Pelley, whose sedition conviction at Indianapolis was a sensation of the early days of World War II.

The U. S. parole board said today he will be released on parole next Tuesday, Feb. 14, ending a long and bitter battle over the continued detention of the founder and leader of the Silver Shirts of America.

Pelley, 40, was convicted in August, 1942 of 11 counts of criminal sedition, and given 15 years.

He was accused of trying to incite mutiny in the armed forces and obstruct recruiting by spreading false propaganda to the effect that this country was devoid of defenses.

He was sentenced to 15 years in the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan., but was eligible for parole in August, 1947 when he had completed a third of his term.

When parole was denied, Pelley started a long series of court actions here and in Indiana designed to force his release. His contention was that his trial proved but one thing—that he was "a harsh and unremittent foe of communism." His friends circularized the country with pamphlets describing him as "our country's No. 1 political prisoner."

President Invokes T-H Act On Striking Coal Miners

Miners Walk To Force Showdown

Pittsburgh, Feb. 6—(AP)—The soft coal strike flamed across more than a dozen new states today, idling 372,200 miners in a showdown fight for a new contract.

Spreading walkouts brought the Taft-Hartley act into play. President Truman invoked the law he hates in an attempt to restore production.

But miners kept up the chant of "no contract no work."

The strike affects practically all United Mine Workers not covered by new contracts in the bituminous (soft coal) industry. Those pacts allow about 40,000 diggers to stay on the job.

Refusing to work are miners who produced 500,000,000 tons of soft coal last year. Their walkout is choking off production to a nation hungry for fuel.

The Association of American Railroads said major lines have an average fuel supply of 14 days. The mines operating with John L. Lewis' blessing and the unorganized pits can't begin to keep industry humming and homes warm.

While UMW officials were chary of comment on Mr. Truman's action, the rank and file was more outspoken.

"Let 'em put us in jail," declared a Uniontown, Pa., digger.

He added:

"We'll dig on U. S. Contract."

"Now if the government puts us to work for Uncle Sam and gives us a contract, we'll dig coal. But not under this Taft-Hartley stuff."

The nation's miners are solidly behind Lewis in his snub to a proposed 70-day truce in the coal strike. The operators accepted the president's truce plan but Lewis scorned it. Today's country wide walkout resulted.

A mine leader who asked not to be quoted by name declared:

"No contract no work—regardless of Taft-Hartley or anybody else. We feel the same as John L. Lewis."

"We are not going back to work under somebody dominating us. We'd be beat before we start if we go back to work now."

"If they want coal dug, let Taft and Hartley and Truman come dig it."

A Uniontown miner said:

"I want to go back to work but if we go back now it'll be just another 70 or 80 days and then we'll be right back where we started—only the operators will have more coal out of the mines."

Report Argentina
Arrested Two Men
From U. S. As Spies

Buenos Aires, Feb. 6—(AP)—The U. S. and British consulates reported today two men from the United States and one from Britain on charges of "crimes against security of the state."

Both consulates said police declined to give details of the charges against the two men, who are being held incommunicado.

The Americans are Arthur Theodore Oppen and Elmer George Oppen, his nephew, both arrested Thursday at Gualaquachu near the Uruguayan border. The Briton was identified as Frank Bruce Kirton, but the British consulate said it was unable to get any details.

Sources at Gualaquachu in Entre Rios province said police made the arrests after searching the home of Juan Morrogn Bernard.

Arthur Oppen is a former president of the rural society of Gualaquachu. Three Argentines connected with fishing companies also were arrested.

The Oppens were brought to Buenos Aires and placed at the disposition of Federal Judge Miguel Rivas Arguello.

Consulate records showed the Oppens came to Argentina from Decatur, Ill., 35 years ago.

Hard Coal Miners Plan No Strike

New York, Feb. 6—(AP)—Hard coal miners plan no work stoppage to fit in with the overall coal situation.

Vice President Thomas Kennedy of the United Mine Workers union said today.

Kennedy made the statement as negotiating committees for the anthracite operators and the UMW continued efforts to reach a contract agreement affecting 80,000 anthracite miners in northeastern Pennsylvania.

The negotiations here went into their tenth week today.

Mickey Cohen Escapes 6th Attempt On Life

Los Angeles, Feb. 6—(AP)—Mickey Cohen in his $100,000 home. Cohen escaped another assassination today, but he admits he's scared.

"I feel very sick in the stomach," he told irate police, "and my wife is suffering extremely from the jitters."

But the dapper little mobster said he doesn't have any idea who sneaked up in the rain to put dynamite under a dressing room window.

Awakened by an alarm attached to a piece of plate glass locked against the throat of one of the girls, Cohen wanted to get this matter cleared up.

"I don't know," Cohen answered. "I'm as much in the dark as you are. I feel very bad about my neighbors. The sections is one of homes in the $75,000-and-up class."

The blast blew a gaping hole in the corner of the house, but for the sixth time in four years, Cohen missed death or serious injury.

Even so, it was a near miss. Cohen was called on the carpet by Deputy Police Chief Thad Brown a few hours after the explosion.

"A lot of innocent people may be killed or injured on account of you," Brown exploded. "Two children across the street were nearly killed. The threat of one of the girls. We want to know who is after you. We want to get this matter cleared up."

PRESIDENT HAS A RIGHT TO PICK HIS OWN KEY MILITARY LEADERS

The debate that finally led to Adm. Forrest P. Sherman's confirmation as Chief of Naval Operations exploded an issue that ought to be settled once and for all.

Senator McCarthy Wisconsin, blocked the confirmation for two weeks on the ground that no legal vacancy existed. He said President Truman already had re-commissioned Adm. Louis E. Denfeld for the post at the time he decided to switch to Sherman.

On the Senate floor McCarthy waved a photostatic copy of Denfeld's commission in proof of his point. Secretary of the Navy Matthews admitted the commission had been signed by the President but said it was delivered to Denfeld through "irregular" channels.

Actually, how Denfeld received it doesn't matter, any more than does the fact that he got it.

McCarthy is saying in effect that a commitment to Denfeld made it illegal and improper—if not impossible—to give the job to another officer. But does that make sense?

The chief of naval operations is the country's top naval man. As such he belongs to a team along with the heads of the other armed services. Obviously that team must be able to find agreement on the fundamentals of the nation's military policy.

Furthermore, they must be able to co-ordinate their thinking with the President's for he is in a very real way their commander-in-chief. The Constitution empowers him to make the key decisions in the military field. He can take or reject the advice of his military and naval leaders.

Where is the logic in insisting the President keep on his top defense staff a man who differs with him—and the other members of the team—on vital questions of organization?

It's not a matter of tossing out a man who has the courage to disagree, who refuses to "yes" the President. The point is to have basic agreement on issues that require it before further sound planning steps can be taken.

No general or admiral would brook major dissent from an officer of lower rank. Certainly the commander-in-chief is entitled to surround himself with men who support him. Willingness to give that support is one of the qualifications an officer must have.

Free speech of the sort the ordinary citizen enjoys is a luxury a top-rank officer cannot have. He doesn't have to take a high post; out once he does he isn't free to disagree fundamentally with his superiors or his colleagues. It's silly to say he should have that freedom. It doesn't go with the job.

Lady From Eskimo Land Will Speak Here Wednesday

Anaata, the only Eskimo woman on the American platform, will be the next lecturer in the MacMurray concert-lecture series Wednesday evening, Feb. 8, in Music Hall. Her lecture will be "An Eskimo Looks At Us."

The lecture will begin promptly at 8 o'clock, instead of 8:15 as has been customary in the series. Anaata is white, and she possesses a streak of English blood, but she comes from Baffin Island which is 400 miles from the North Pole and where the temperature is often 70 degrees below zero. In fact, in Anaata's home-land they speak of going to Labrador as "going south."

If you can picture a lady who was raised as a boy; driving dog-sleds, shooting seal, polar bear, fow and deer—and who was a grown woman with two children of her own, before she had ever tasted any kind of fruit or vegetable, a lady who comes from a land where there is no dishonesty—no stealing—no "rackets"—no contagious disease—no decayed teeth—no bald-headed men—and where a man does not need to shave, because he has no beard, then, you have a conception of the speaker.

Anaata, in her lecture, will tell of her country, its people and customs. In all her description of that far-off land, there is much seriousness, but many good laughs, too, as she describes some of the ludicrous mistakes she made while trying to adjust to "The American Way of Life." She will attempt to prove that the culture she inherited is better to live by than the culture she has learned in this country.

The Childs' Dental Health Habits

Fifth in a series of question and answer articles published by the Journal Courier in cooperation with the Morgan County Dental Society.

At what age should a child begin brushing his teeth?

When all the primary teeth have erupted, which is usually between the ages of two and three years.

Should a parent help the child with his toothbrushing?

Yes. In fact, the parent will have to do most of the real brushing for some time. The child should be permitted to wield the brush first and then the parent should take over and complete the job. In this way the child will develop the habit of regular tooth brushing.

What is the best method of brushing the teeth?

There are several approved methods. One good method is this: With the jaws held slightly apart, brush the teeth of each jaw separately. Place the bristles on the gum and brush the upper teeth with a downward motion. Reverse the procedure for the lower teeth, brushing upward. Give at least five strokes to each group of teeth covered by the brush. The grinding surfaces should be cleaned with a scrubbing motion. It is important to brush the tooth surfaces that touch the tongue as well as those that touch the cheeks.

When should the teeth be brushed?

To obtain the best results, the brushing should be done immediately after eating whenever possible, because food debris that adheres to the teeth is one source of tooth decay. This is especially true of sweets.

Which is better tooth powder or paste?

There is no essential difference in the cleansing properties of tooth powder and tooth paste. For children a paste is probably preferable because it is easier to handle and therefore less subject to waste.

With the new almost invisible Phantomold and Beltone you may free yourself not only from deafness but from even the appearance of deafness.

COLLAR FOR KITTY—When Tommie turned in at a Cleveland, O., car barn with extensive fight damage, the workers sent him to a veterinarian for repairs. Tommie's eye was stitched up, and the first day home he clawed out the stitches. After a second trip to the hospital, the transit men made him this scratch-proof collar to keep his paws out of his eyes. Conductor William Carrig is seen "springing" Tommie from the cat hospital.

A Candidate For An Oscar

BY HAL BOYLE

New York—F—Hollywood's male Crawford has a solution to the problem of movies versus television.

This Crawford is Broderick Crawford, and his solution to the conflict that has motion picture magnates gnawing each other's fingernails is: "Turn out the B-grade, or low budget, pictures for television—and the A-grade, high-cost pictures for the film theaters."

Crawford—no relation to Hollywood's female Crawford, Joan—thinks it is foolish for the film industry to war against television, as it once tried to battle radio.

"Right now the movie actors are screaming to get on television," he said, "but the studios won't let them."

"Television won't stop the making of movies. It should, however, force the studios to make a better product."

Crawford is in a position to know something about that. Son of well-known actress Helen Broderick, he made an excellent name for himself on Broadway but spent a dozen years on the west coast before hitting the jackpot.

He did it last year in "All the King's Men," an adult picture in which he played Gov. Willie Stark who resembles the late Huey Long. Eighty leading Hollywood correspondents in an AP poll voted it the best film of 1949 and named Crawford actor of the year.

Right now Broderick, a big, bluff, easy-going ex-sergeant, is the ranking candidate for an academy "Oscar" next month. But he has been acting too long to count on it.

He feels one reason "All the King's Men" turned out so well is the off-hand manner in which it was made.

"You want to know a secret?" he said. "It was shot off the cuff."

"Nobody in the cast had a script and only Robert Rossen, the director-producer, really knew what he was doing."

"He let us all read the script once—then took it away from us. Not knowing the dialogue until two minutes before the camera starts grinding really keeps an actor on his toes. It's a wonderful way to work. You don't have time to get bored with your lines."

FOUR NEW SERIES OF CARS...

The Series sixty Special Sedan

..All Dramatically Restyled...and Powered by Cadillac's Sensational New Engine!

Today, we are presenting, for your consideration, the finest, most beautiful motor cars we have ever been privileged to announce.

They are the new Cadillacs for 1956—and we want you to come and see them.

We not only want you to see them—but we think you should see them. For to see and inspect these wonderful creations will make you a sharper judge of all cars—and increase your motor-car wisdom in every respect.

There are four entirely new series of cars—all with wholly new bodies, and all completely restyled. We think you'll agree that nothing so sleek and dynamic and beautiful has ever been seen on the world's streets and highways. They are arrestingly and breath-takingly gorgeous—and all are distinctively Cadillac.

And not only are they advanced in beauty—but their performance is finer in every way.

Cadillac's great new high-compression engine is even smoother; it is actually quicker in acceleration; and it runs so quietly that only the indicators reveal when it is in action. It is simply wonderful to drive.

And—difficult as this will be for owners of 1949 Cadillacs to believe—the 1956 cars are even more economical to operate. Gasoline mileage really approaches that of the smaller, lowest-priced cars. It is no less than amazing that cars so big and luxurious should run so far on a gallon of gasoline.

Comfort and handling ease are also remarkably advanced. There is far finer road balance and over-all steadiness at all driving speeds. Steering is softer and more positive. Brakes are more efficient and longer-lived. The over-all satisfaction of driving—from every standpoint—is simply "out of this world."

Truly, here are cars so fine and beautiful that they deserve your personal consideration. Make your plans now to come in and see them. You will be cordially welcome at any time.

Jacksonville Boy Captured After St. Charles Escape

St. Charles, Ill., Feb. 6.—Seven of eight boys who escaped from the Illinois State training school for boys over the weekend are back in custody.

Sally at large is Gene Folta, 16 of Chicago, who fled from the school near here Saturday with John Arthur Kroon, 15, and Lloyd Schimmel, 16, both of Chicago.

The five who fled Sunday were Richard Patterson, 16, Roodhouse; Raymond Hayes, 16, Jacksonville; and Leonard Lee, 15, James Sbrinovich, 15, and Thomas Humphrey, 16, all of Chicago. They escaped while loading coal with 16 other youths at a school powerhouse. Two supervisors on duty were unable to give chase for fear of leaving the other boys unguarded.

Patterson and Lee were recaptured on school property. The other three were seized after a search plane spotted them in some woods a half mile from the school.

Raymond Hayes, 16 year old Jacksonville boy, is serving his second commitment at the St. Charles school. Moreau county officers said Monday. This was the second time that he has escaped and been recaptured.

Hayes was sent to the state school originally for the theft of an automobile. Later he was taken into custody as a parole violator.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

Chicago, Feb. 6.—(P)—Lambs soared to a new seasonal high price of $26.00 a hundred pounds today, while hogs and cattle held generally steady.

Barrows and gilts opened the hog trade moderately active but closed slow and with an estimated 1,500 head unsold. Butcher weights mostly made $15.50 to $18.00, the top. Sows were fully steady at $13.00 to $15.25, a few getting to $15.50.

Two loads of choice long yearlings were the best of the cattle run at $35.00, a few loads of high-grade steers going at $30.00 to $33.00. Steers started steady to 50 cents higher but closed steady to weak. Medium and good kinds and yearlings ranged from $22.00 to $29.00, comparable heifers taking $22.00 to $27.00. One load of heifers got $27.50. Beef cows topped at $18.00, sausage bulls at $21.50, and vealers at $32.00.

Lambs were strong to 50 cents higher and ewes firm. The $26.00 peak on fed woolled lambs was the highest since last July 15. Shorn lambs brought $24.75 and below and ewes $13.50 and downward.

Among the day's estimated salable run were 12,000 hogs, 12,000 cattle, 400 calves, and 5,500 sheep.

Arch Ward Hits Pro-Amateur College Athletes

DeKalb, Ill.—Feb. 4.—“College sports must get back to their common-sense sphere.”

This was the crux of an address given by Arch Ward, Chicago Tribune Sports Editor, at the first Annual All-Sports Banquet held at Northern Illinois State Teachers College in DeKalb Friday.

Mr. Ward emphasized the important role college people will have in shaping college athletics in future years in his speech, in which he expressed the fear that unless the trend toward “professional-amateurs” is halted, collegiate athletics may be killed.

The originator of the All-Star football and baseball games told the assembled athletes and guests that he could see no harm in athletic scholarships to help needy and talented men get a college education, but he attacked the practice of making college stars out-and-out of pros.

“Keep amateur sports amateur, and pro sports pro,” advised Mr. Ward. “I think it is the wholesome thing in education. The amateur's interests are not academic, nor is his attitude conducive to good morale on any campus.”

N.I.T. To Abandon Controversial Two-Minute Rule

New York, Feb. 6.—(AP)—Collegiate basketball's controversial two-minute rule will be abandoned for the national invitation tournament, A.S.S. Bushnell, tournament chairman, announced today.

"Throughout the entire game all foul shots must be attempted, or none may be waived," said Bushnell. "During the final two minutes of the second half, and of each overtime period, after every single foul shot, whether made or missed—and after the second of every pair of foul shots, whether made or missed—the ball shall be put in play by a jump at the nearer foul circle, between opposing players designated by the respective team captains."

This is a departure from the rule book under which the National Collegiate Athletic Association tournament will be played. The rule books says the team shooting a foul in the last two minutes retains possession of the ball whether the shot is made or missed.

The national invitation tournament, an annual Madison Square Garden feature, is scheduled March 11, 13, 14, 16 and 18. Two first round games are listed for March 11. Invitations probably will go out in about two weeks.

Sidelights On Greene County Cage Tourney

The 24th Annual Greene County tourney proved one of the best in recent years. The game for third place was a thriller between Coach Don Luketich's Greenfield Tigers and Mason Campbell's Roodhouse Railroaders. The Greenfield club, led by Dean Cochran and Bob Waltrip, won over the Roodhouse five for the trophy.

Dick Hamann's Carrollton Hawks, one of the tallest Carrollton teams in recent years, edged the White Hall Maroons in the title game 53-37.

Carrollton is the first school to cop three consecutive titles in the tourney series. Three Carrollton players were on the Eldred team of 1948 that lost to another strong Carrollton five in the championship game at White Hall. Carrollton, in winning the last three titles, has averaged 52 2/3 points per game to their opponents 35 1/3 points.

Coach Don Luketich is very optimistic about his future prospects at Greenfield high. He started three underclassmen against Roodhouse—Huff, G. Waltrip and Wahl. Greenfield, in winning third place, accomplished a feat that Greenfield teams have been attempting since winning second in 1944, when they had Allen Burghardt, colored star leading the scoring.

White Hall has played in the championship game of the Greene County tourneys 14 years in the past 24 and has won seven titles. Roodhouse has won seven Greene County titles and Carrollton has won the first place trophy five times.

St. Louis, Chicago Bargain Hunters Fail In New York

New York, Feb. 6.—(AP)—Bargain hunters from St. Louis, Chicago and Cleveland bearded Yankee General Manager George Weiss in his 5th avenue den today, but none of them flushed as much as a bull pen catcher.

First man to go to the mat with Weiss was Bill "Dewitt" St. Louis Browns president. He didn't bring his hypnotic coach. Dewitt must have bumped into Frank Laine, Chicago White Sox general manager, on the way out.

Lane listened to Manager Casey Stengel recite the assets of his troupe and then huddled for an earnest conversation with Weiss.

Hank Greenberg, new general manager of the Cleveland Indians, was the last caller of the day.

"No announcements," said Red Peterson, Yankee public relations chief. If they did anything, they kept it to themselves.

Reason for the rush was the presence of Stengel. Old Case returns to California in a day or two. His bosses want to clear up a few loose ends.

"We'd still like that one good starting pitcher," said Stengel.

FESLER NAMED MOST OUTSTANDING ALUMNUS

Chicago, Feb. 6.—(AP)—Wes Fesler, football coach of Ohio State's Rose Bowl champions, today was named the most outstanding alumnus of Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity for 1949.

He will receive an award from the Chicago alumni chapter at its annual Founders' Day dinner March 3 here. The presentation is to be made by Gov. Earle S. Clements of Kentucky, last year's winner.

The seven members of the eastern intercollegiate basketball league are playing their 46th championship season during 1950.

GRID TOPPER—This Pylolite helmet is football's new headgear for 1950. The helmet is lighter than the old plastic model, form fitting, considered more durable, guaranteed not to crack. It is thickly cushioned with cellular sponge and foam-rubber padding, styled for eye appeal.

Blueboys Scramble For Conference Lead; Face Millikin Friday

By Ed Armstrong
Upsets by Illinois College and Augustana over Wheaton and James Lake Forest on Saturday. Millikin during the weekend drew the College Conference of Illinois standings into a jumble.

Trimmed 61-54 at Rock Island by the Vikings on Friday evening, the Big Blue of Decatur dropped temporarily into a tie with Augustana and Wheaton for the Little Nine lead. But the next evening the Millikin cagers pulled back into the drivers' seat with a 62-48 conquest of the Carthage Reimen at Carthage.

The Big Blue boasts a 5-2 record in league play to hold their first place position, but Illinois College, Illinois Wesleyan and Augustana are not on their heels. I.C. and Wesleyan have 4-2 records, while Augie has a 3-1 card.

The Vikings of Augustana, rated a second division club by most observers at the start of the campaign, can pull into first place with a win over the eighth place Carthage five at Carthage Wednesday. The Vikings are the only team in the conference with only one loss, but they have a long way to go to annex the CCI crown.

Blueboys Surprise
The surprising 60-58 win by the Blueboys over Wheaton dropped the Crusaders from second place to a tie with Lake Forest for fifth place in the standings. But Coach Ed Coray's five have no more games with either Illinois College, Illinois Wesleyan or Millikin.

The key contest of this weekend in the Little Nine will be the Illinois College match with Millikin at Decatur. But averaging their 60-49 loss to the Big Blue here two weeks ago and trimming Carthage Saturday at Carthage, the Blueboys could take over first place in the league, or at least push into a first place tie. A win for the Decaturites, on the other hand, would allow them to hold onto the lead or at least a share of it.

Another important tussle carded for Saturday night pits North Central's Cardinals against the Crusaders at Wheaton. And the Titans of Illinois Wesleyan will continue their championship drive with a Copyright 1950 by NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Alice Pine, literary secretary to the popular writer Mrs. Muriel Halleck, is mystified by Brent, Muriel's artist husband. At first he infuriates her, then she pities him. Finally Alice suspects him of wife-renting his four-year-old adopted son Rick. Chuck Wisner, who describes himself as the village loafer, says Brent is "a very fine guy." But one day Alice has lunch with Molly Tremayne, who lives in the nearby village of Tolliver, and Molly says that Brent comes from a family that has been going down-grade for generations. During the war Brent bought his old home and moved Muriel there, but Muriel is the brand-winner of the family and Brent is a failure. When Muriel points out that Brent works hard, Molly sniffs: "Brent couldn't work seriously and with his head half his time with that drunken Chuck Wisner."

AT Molly Tremayne's mention of Chuck Wisner, Alice Pine started to say that she had recently met the man, but didn't. Alice was feeling suddenly guilty. She had been keenly interested in Molly's story, but she did not want to hear any more just now. There had been a little—well, too much of picking a man to pieces.

She looked at her watch and affected consternation. "Good Heavens, Molly, I've got to fly. Muriel's expecting a mess of stuff from me this afternoon."

When she got home Muriel was on the lawn, in swimsuit and with a yellow cotton robe thrown over her shoulders.

"It's getting so darned hot," Muriel said, "that I'm haunting tradition—the one that says you can't swim before the Fourth of July."

"I'd love nothing better than to faint it with you," Alice said. "Well, hurry and get into your suit!" Muriel waved and the yellow robe, dislodged, fell to the ground.

And Alice couldn't repress a shocked little gasp in time. Muriel's eyes came up quickly. They traveled from Alice's face to her own left arm. "Oh," Muriel said, caressing the muscle above the elbow. "Nasty, isn't it?"

"It's an awful bruise. How on earth—" Alice's voice trailed off. "Just my own stupidity," Muriel said lightly. "The night of the storm I woke up and found the rain simply pouring into the bedroom. And when I went to close the window, I—I wasn't awake enough, I guess. Anyhow, I tripped and smacked into a dresser, good and hard."

Alice went inside to change. But she walked slowly. Angry blue marks on white skin, spaced about an inch apart. Definitely, dressers did not have fingers.

DESPITE Alice's doubts and a heel wave that followed, Muriel seemed delighted to serve on Molly Tremayne's committee. "Molly's promised to go easy on me," she told Alice. "And a little extra-curricular work never hurts."

On behalf of the Garden Club Muriel drove into Tolliver alone one evening. It had been a stifling day, the heat gripping Connecticut like a great moist hand. And the disappearance of the sun, going down after a last red glare at the world it had tortured, brought no relief.

Not a feather of breeze stirred off the flat torpid sound. The leaves of trees and shrubs stood still. Flower scents seemed to hang in heavy suspension on the lifeless air.

After Muriel had gone, Alice went to her room upstairs. She peeled to her slip and sat watching purple twilight deepening over the water.

Just before dark Brent Halleck came across the lawn. He had started off after dinner on one of his innumerable rambles. Alice wondered from whence he had summoned the energy.

Brent appeared to be somewhat wilted now, however. He wore a pale-green sports shirt and white drill trousers. The shirt clung damply to his shoulders. He passed obliquely below her window without looking up, going in the direction of the garage. Presently she heard a motor.

Alice decided then upon a night swim. She had considered the idea before, but discarded it. She hadn't wanted to run the risk of meeting Brent, possibly to have him suggest himself as company.

Actually, she did not know Brent well. But she felt that she knew enough about him to last her a lifetime. Now, though, he was gone. She got into T-shirt and shorts.

THE beach was the most comfortable place she had yet discovered. There was still no wind, but proximity to the water gave at least an illusion of relief.

She lay in the sand a while, smoking. When the cigarette burned down she flipped it away in a red arc and waded into the water.

Ten minutes later, reveling in a coolness she had thought nonexistent, she saw the dark figure slouching along the beach.

She knew at once that it was Brent by his unmistakable, drooping shoulders. She stopped splashing and stood motionless, crouched down slightly. Brent approached from the direction of the road and she hoped he would go on without noticing her, and without seeing her robe on the sand.

To her annoyance, he paused. A match flared. And Brent called, "That you, Alice?"

There was nothing for it but to wade to the beach. She did so, pulling off her bathing-cap and shaking out her hair.
